Scott Lanz is responsible for all Madison Highland Live/Work Lofts construction management activities and has personally overseen the construction of all of Robert Seldin related developments since 1999. One of the most widely respected leaders in mid-Atlantic and Southeastern apartment construction, Scott has personally overseen the design and construction of over 50 residential and hospitality projects representing a total construction value in excess of $4Billion. While many of Scott's projects have received industry awards for design, lease-up and innovation, all of Scott's projects benefit from his signature attention to every detail and his renowned humility, helping create permanent value both today and tomorrow.
